Crafters' Market at Historic Rosedale

Historic Rosedale's Annual Crafters' Market returns on Saturday, May 2, 2026, from 10am-3pm under the large, covered pavilion. This outdoor community event offers a historic backdrop that creates the perfect atmosphere for connecting local crafters with people looking for handmade treasures and gifts. The timing of the market is intentional – offering an opportunity to purchase unique gifts for Mother's Day, Father's Day, graduations, communions, etc.

Executive Director Deanna Witte-Walker states, "We are pleased to welcome visitors to this special event. Typically, the crafters that participate in our Market are both supporters of local art and supporters of Historic Rosedale. These are not the vendors that you see every weekend at other events. We hope visitors will join us for this more personalized experience."

The event is free and grounds admission is waived for the day. Donations are accepted. Guided house tours are additional (reservations suggested.) Historic Rosedale is located at 3427 N. Tryon St., Charlotte. Parking is plentiful.
